Arena & Saddle Shop Operations. He manages the arena employees, events, clinics and private lessons held in the 'Beautiful Valley' below the 'New Magic Mountain of Cowboy Disneyland' as he refers to the New NRS Ranch destination. Sonny worked with David Isham on the 'Vision' and design of the NRS Training Center and ranch from 2001-2004 after being Vice President of Cowboy Tack from 1993 to 2001. He spent the past decade consulting for associations, companies and manufacturers of the western industry across the globe. NRS is glad to have him back and Sonny says, "it's Great to be back home at the Ranch". Sonny is married to Darlene (they were married here by the Late and Great Robert Isham) and lives in Poolville, TX where they raise and train western performance horses.

If you have family coming into town to visit and need a place for them to stay then be sure and contact Emily Menard, Events & Guest Services Coordinator. She manages the lodging needs for everyone that stops in overnight or for one of the clinics and events held at the NRS Ranch. Don't forget that NRS employees get a 30% discount for lodging, when available, at the Pecan Grove Bunkhouses and Shade Tree Cabins.

NRS SADDLE SHOP

Justin Thompson, Bertrand Goubert, J. David Huey, John Vanzee, Rodney Decker

The new NRS Saddle Shop Manager, J. David Huey, has been in the Saddle shop business for 25 years. He has previously worked for Cajun Saddlery, M.L. Leddy's, Luskey/Ryon's Saddlery, Murray Leather and Cowboy Tack, where he worked with our very own, Sonny Miller. David has one daughter, three grandchildren (Keith Hilton working for the Ranch this summer), and one great-grandson and he enjoys team roping and educating folks on the finer points of saddle making.

Joe Castillo, Graham Moon, Randy Moon, Keith Hilton, Jake Willingham

Since Randy Moon has started working for NRS in 2010, he has been in management of Shipping, Wholesale Accounts and Receiving and now is the manager of the NRS Ranch Ground Caretaking Crew. He is married to Donna and has two sons, Elliott and Graham. Graham is currently working with his father for the summer. This team trims trees, mows, and weed-eats working hard to make the Ranch look as nice as any park destination in the nation.

One of the Ground Crew, Joe Castillo, has been working at the Ranch for 9 years and does whatever it takes, from plumbing to fixing fences to painting. Joe estimates that they probably mow about 50 acres of the ranch regularly. They also clean up debris from the many storms that we have had this year. The Ranch has lost about 15 mature trees because of the storms. But, the recent rainfall has blessed the ranch with the much needed water that has been missing for the past 6 years due to the drought. "It takes a Flood to end a Drought" was quoted by the Late Harold Taft, Meteorologist for NBC5, and re-quoted by Sonny to Randy and Joe, "boys this is just job security when you are as good at mowing as your crew is".
